

Tributary Systems Signs Sales Agreement with Sirius Computer Solutions

Sirius To Sell Tributary Storage Director for IBM System z Servers and IBM Power Systems

SHARE, San Francisco, February 3, 2013 – Tributary Systems, Inc. announces it has signed an agreement with IBM® Premier Business Partner Sirius Computer Solutions, Inc. for Sirius to sell Tributary's Storage Director® data protection solution for IBM System z mainframes and IBM Power Systems running IBM i, AIX and Linux.

"We are delighted that Sirius can offer Tributary Storage Director to enterprises," said Tributary CEO Shawn Sabanayagam. "As data explodes, the challenges of protecting that data rise exponentially. Storage Director streamlines the management of long-term storage and makes it more cost effective. This agile and robust data protection solution has been developed over many years. Storage Director is being used by many data-intensive enterprises where lost data is unthinkable, including four of the Fortune 20 companies."

Tributary is in Booth 902 at SHARE, and is presenting a session by storage guru Jon Toigo on Monday, February 4th at 11 am. Toigo maintains, in Delivering Data Protection Services in a Business-Savvy Way, that "Defense in Depth" is the new normal. Organizations must use several data protection techniques in combination to assure data availability and integrity in the most cost-effective manner. Toigo observes that Tributary Systems has begun to address this challenge with Storage Director®

Tributary Systems, Inc. (www.tributary.com) delivers data protection with vision. Customers include Fortune 20, Fortune 500 and Fortune Global 1000 companies as well as small and middle market companies in banking, financial services, retail, telecommunications and healthcare. Tributary Systems is an IBM OEM, Solutions Integrator and z Development Partner.
